

Loving, Living, Learning

Last academic year, school hosted a 'Vision Week' and this was a fabulous celebration of the implementation of the school vision: 'Loving, Living, Learning.'

The vision is central to school life so it is important to continue celebrating and living it out. On Thursday 21st and Friday 22nd November, we will open our school doors and welcome parents/carers in to join your child(ren) in activities and learning, all focussed on the vision.

The activities will be thoughtful and creative - including artwork and sewing - with the final products being used to create whole school displays in which every child in school will have contributed to.

Just like last year, the children will work across school and alongside children from different year groups.

I have outlined the timings for both days below. An event has been created on ParentPay so please use your account to select the sessions which you will be attending.

Thursday 21st November - 9.30am - 11am

Friday 22nd November - 9.30am - 11am

Thank you, Mrs. Brook

Some of the creative ideas that we may be working towards!

